

Common Purpose
Global Leader Experiences

Jeonju
11—14 June 2019

What if the world's greatest challenges were in your hands?

12 years
100+ Universities
100 programmes
10,000 students

Join a Global Leader Experience (GLE) and develop your ability to lead from a truly global perspective. Along with students from the University of Central Lancashire, you will play a part in tackling the biggest issues facing businesses, governments and societies worldwide.

The GLE will challenge you to adapt and thrive in a new context while establishing a genuinely global network. It equips you with the tools you need to lead change, now and in the future.

“This was a huge chance to learn from other people and learn more about myself. I have realised I am more value than I thought, and I am capable of doing more. Thank you so much.”

“I pitched for a grant to start my business just three days after returning from the programme and was awarded the grant the following day. I honestly don't believe that I would have been able to have the confidence to pitch at all, never mind secure funding, if it hadn't been for the programme. I have worked in multiple management positions, led hundreds of students and managed teams of over 30 people, but I had never believed in myself and my own dreams. This programme, the speakers, the safe environment and the inspiration, helped me to believe.”

Why should you take part?

- Develop your leadership skills and grow Cultural Intelligence (the ability to cross boundaries and thrive in multiple cultures)
- Adapt and thrive in new environments
- Build new networks locally and globally with fellow students, contributors and leading employers
- Learn and practice the skills required to quickly understand and navigate complexity

What happens?

You will develop your Cultural Intelligence and leadership skills by exploring a major world challenge “How do we ensure technological innovation delivers societal as well as economic value in cities?” from a local perspective. You will meet visionary leaders from global businesses, governments and international not-for-profit organizations. This will help you and your fellow participants understand the challenge and find creative ideas to solve it.

Best of all, you won't be alone; you will build international connections and make new friends amongst this diverse group of participants.

Who could you meet?

During the four days, you will direct your own learning, speaking to leaders and visiting organizations across the city. Some of the organizations you could potentially meet include:

- Samsung R&D Center
- QIAGEN
- TomoCube
- Korea Institute of Energy Research
- The Korea Times

Where do we run Global Leader Experiences?

Common Purpose runs GLEs in cities around the world, where large numbers of the world's talent convene to study, including London, New York, São Paulo, Johannesburg, Hong Kong, Singapore and Melbourne.

A global network

Everyone who finishes a Common Purpose programme, anywhere in the world, joins the Common Purpose 360 network - a 78,000 strong, growing, global community of our alumni with exceptional diversity and a huge range of skills, interests and leadership experiences.

Some will be very senior, experienced leaders across the public, private and NGO sectors, others will be emerging leaders and some will be fellow students just finishing university. This breadth and depth makes the network unique.
